

Quality Policy

Active Medical is committed to supply of imported, own-designed manufactured, and other Australian-made medical equipment to the hospital, aged care, and home care facilities. The scope also includes medical equipment servicing.

This is achieved through product innovation, cost reduction activities and compliance with ISO 9001 requirements.

This Quality Policy seeks to actively encourage stakeholders and members of the company to continually communicate about effective means of improvement for product quality and customer requirements.

We will align this Policy with our strategic direction through the establishment of quality goals and objectives.

We will sustain this commitment by the involvement and further training and development of all our employees.

To assist us to do this Active Medical undertakes to operate and maintain and continually improve our documented quality management systems which satisfy the appropriate controlling requirements, linked to the inspection or certification service being provided.

This Policy is communicated within our Organisation and is available to other interested parties when requested.
